

Barnard College and The Jewish Theological Seminary invite you to:

Renana Raz

Studio Performance and Artist Engagement

When: Sunday, December 13, 2009

Where: Barnard College

3009 Broadway (entrance at the 117th Street Gate)

Time: 11:00 a.m.- Welcome/light brunch in the Barnard Hall lobby.

12:00 p.m.– Performance and Artist
Dialogue in the Barnard Hall Annex 110,
Streng Studio.

Admission: Free (but seating is limited;
advanced reservation encouraged).

Please RSVP by noon on December 11th to Aimurray@jtsa.edu.

For more information, please contact Marion
Dienstag at 212-678-8849.

Renana Raz is a leading voice today in the young generation of Israeli choreographers. Working independently since 1999, her works have been presented in Israel, Brazil, German, Poland, Holland, Lithuania, Japan, Cameroon and the United States. In 2007 she collaborated with the Israeli Druze Folklore Dance Company and created a work for the Aura Dance Company in Lithuania. Last year, Raz was invited by Israel's leading theater company, Habima National Theater, to create a work for the Israel Festival in Jerusalem; together with Ofer Amram, she created "OV," a dance theater piece inspired by the classical Jewish play, "The Dybbuk."

This program is presented with support from the Charles and Lynn Schusterman Family Foundation.
Special thanks to the Israeli Consulate.

100th Anniversary of the Teachers Institute

Office of Cultural Affairs, Consulate
General of Israel in New York